The Oldham County History Center is hosting a lecture series about the collections, research and exhibits it has in La Grange.

The series, called "Taking Care of History," starts Nov. 5 with educator Jan Jasper speaking about how things are made and how they deteriorate. On Dec. 3, staff genealogist Dot Carraco will give tips on researching local family history.

The talks will be in the Rob Morris Chapel Educational building on the History Center grounds on Second Street. They are free, but registration is required. For more information, call 222-0826.

Refreshments will be available, but participants are asked to bring their lunch.

Reporter Andrea Uhde can be reached at (502) 582-4663.
