

July 2, 2008

Oldham to celebrate new park trails

The Courier-Journal

New trails are being built at Wendell Moore Park in Buckner, and the people that made it happen plan to celebrate.

Greenways for Oldham County and county officials are planning a groundbreaking ceremony for the trails at 2 p.m. July 20 at the park on N. Ky. 393.

When construction is finished later this summer, the park will boast about 2.5 miles of crushed stone trails for walkers, joggers and bike riders.

Later, the trail will be connected to a nearly 1-mile loop near the senior center that's being fixed up.

The 3.35 miles of trails will eventually become part of a longer trails system the county is working on that will twist through the county, starting in La Grange.

The groundbreaking event will include hot dogs and burgers starting at 1 p.m., with the official groundbreaking at 2 p.m. People will then be able to walk around the property and see where the trails will be.

For more information, visit www.oldhamgreenways.org or www.OldhamCounty.net.

---